Letting a property comes with legal hurdles, financial pressures, and plenty of confusing advice—so it matters who’s by your side. In England, anyone can call themselves a property agent with no licence, regulation or oversight.

That’s why choosing a Certified and Accredited Propertymark member is essential. As the professional body for letting agents, Propertymark ensures members are trained, audited, and bound by a strict code of conduct. This means fewer risks and greater confidence for you. Look for the Propertymark logo—the mark of professionalism and trust.

YouGov

* YouGov research conducted on behalf of Propertymark in January 2025 with 1012 consumers involved in property transactions in the last 12 months, showed the largest proportion (55%) chose a local property agent for advice and 60% said the most important qualities were holding a regulated qualification and belonging to a professional body.

Why use this Propertymark letting agent?

This agency has chosen to be independently regulated and accountable to the highest professional standards.

Propertymark undertake regular inspections to ensure they are meeting standards and maintaining full compliance with HMRC and Trading Standards. We stay in close contact with your agent to make sure they:

Keep client money and accounts safe, and in order

Have an up to date & best practice tenancy agreement

Have the right safeguards and insurance in place

WHAT IS CLIENT MONEY PROTECTION (CMP)?

When you work with a Propertymark agency, your money is safe. We ensure our members, who hold client money, are part of a Government-approved CMP scheme—a legal requirement for letting agents.

Propertymark provides one such CMP scheme, offering financial guarantees that any money held by the agency will be reimbursed if they go into liquidation or misuse funds. This means you won't lose out—your money is secure, protected and recoverable.
